GIRL SCOUTS more than half a million strong have offered their services to the President in this national emergency. Last year they began to organize Service Bureaus in local communities throughout the country in order to handle requests for service from the community quickly and easily. They have "promised to pay on demand any number of hours of service" the President might ask for. Above are Girl Scouts in action. Above left, two Girl Scouts register for the Girl Scout Service Bureau. Above right, an aviator explains an airplane control board to a Marine. One of Girl Scouting's nautical group. ## GIRLS SCOUTS HERE ARRANGE PROGRAM TO MARK FOUNDING

Ceremonies Next Friday Evening Hall 29th "Birthday"

The Girl Scouts of Salem will join the half million members of their organization throughout the nation in celebrating the 25th birthday of the founding of girl scouting in this country on March 12. In thousands of communities from coast to coast, Girl Scouts are planning special parties or events to mark the day. Here the birthday celebration will take the form of a special program to be held at the Memorial building next Friday evening.

For the last year of the Girl Scouts' third decade, nationwide emphasis is being placed upon the strengthening of Pan-American friendship and participation in the nation's defense program. One of the major projects for the 25th year will be the second Western Hemisphere encampment next summer for Girl Scouts and Girl Guides from all the Americas. (The first Pan-American Girl Scout encampment was held last summer at Camp Andree Clark, Pleasantville, N. Y., and was attended by nearly 100 girls from every section of the United States and 13 north, south and central American countries.)

The Juliette Low fund, which the Girl Scouts maintain in honor of their founder, will sponsor the 1941 encampment.

Juliette Low, founder of the Girl Scouts, believed strongly that scouting was an active force in the development of international friendship and understanding. Common

NEW CAR PURCHASE APPROVED BY COURT

LISBON, March 8.—The county commissioners on Friday obtained the authority of the common pleas court for the purchase of a new automobile.

The purchase of a new car was made necessary due to the condition of the car now in use at the county home, the commissioners said. The old car will be traded in on the new car in a deal with the Nash Ohio Motor Sales at East Liverpool for $660 plus the trade-in allowance of $375. The new car will be used by the commissioners, while the old car will be transferred to the sheriff's department, and a car of that department will be used for county home purposes.

Shortage of Ohio Workers Reported

COLUMBUS, March 8.—A critical shortage of workers exists in Ohio in more than half of 309 occupations most vital to production of national defense materials. H. C. Atkinson, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, revealed in a report to Gov. John W. Bricker.

Less than 10 workers in each of 134 occupations, and 10 to 24 workers in an additional 49 occupations for which there is greatest demand in defense industries, were registered with the Ohio State Employment Service, a division of the bureau, as available for work on Jan. 25, the administrator reported.

A special inventory of employment service files on that date revealed that a total of 24,778 workers were registered in the 309 selected occupations, including professional and kindred, skilled, and semi-skilled classifications listed 741 occupations; 178 skilled classifications showed 17,028 workers available; and 106 semi-skilled occupational classifications revealed 7,699 registrants.

Every effort is being made by the bureau to increase the number of registrants in these classifications, the administrator informed Gov. Bricker. All unemployed workers and those having special skills but have not worked at their trained occupation within the last eight or 10 years, are being urged to register with bureau offices in their community for defense work, the Ohio bureau chief said.

FINES ARE LEVIED FOR OVER-WEIGHT

Five motorists were arrested yesterday by Salem state highway patrolmen four of them on charges of driving overweight trucks.

Albert R. Morris of Rogers, arrested for driving an overloaded car, was fined $25 and costs by Mayor George Wilson at Canfield.

Ivan Gregory of Akron, another truck driver, drew a $25 fine in justice W. T. Jones' court at Edinburg. Two others, Charles Stevens of Allison Park, Pa., and Clyde W. Craine of Cleveland, were fined $15 and costs each.

The patrol also arrested Robert L. Glastetter, Cleveland truck driver, who had borrowed a chauffeur's license from a friend. Pleading guilty to a charge of failure to have a chauffeur's license, he was fined $50 and costs by Judge Jones.

GERMANS HIT AT REPORT U. S. SEEKS TO AID YUGOSLAVS

State Department Leaders At Washington Deny Statements

(By Associated Press) BERLIN, March 8.—Although substantiated on the surface by nothing except an Hungarian newspaper dispatch, Germans reacted with annoyance today to a report that President Roosevelt had suggested some manner of aid to Yugoslavia to keep that nation out of the Axis.

(State department officials at Washington) said they "never heard of it." German newspapers hammered on the theme. Pressed for additional substantiation of the Budapest report, an authorized spokesman commented:

"Say it's authentic."

"We have the impression it is authentic." The alleged diplomatic feeling directed at Yugoslavia was described here as evidence of how hard the democracies were fighting to prevent the spread of influence of the three-power pact.

The Germans, however, refused to say a word about what progress the pact might be making.

In a lead article today the Esen National Zeitung asked if "America would appreciate it if Germany sent special envoys all over Central America as Roosevelt does over Europe?" The Zeitung said these travelers were "proof of a continued attempt on the part of Washington to influence Germany's neighbors."

To Be Examined The authoritative German commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, predicted that Roosevelt's foreign policy would be examined by the German press as a whole. The commentary often reflects German press as a whole. The commentary often reflects German foreign office opinion.

The comment grew out of the Yugoslav story, printed in the Budapest newspaper Magyarasag.

ESCAPED PRISONER CAUGHT ON COAST

LISBON, March 8.—Sheriff George Hayes today received word from the police department at Redding, California, that Ray "Red" Groves, who escaped from the Columbiana county jail here with three companions in November, 1930, had been apprehended there. However, due to lack of funds, Prosecutor Frank W. Springer stated the prisoner would not be extradited at this time.

Groves, who stole an automobile in Youngstown, was arrested in this county for chicken stealing, and when the quartet broke jail here they made their escape in a car owned by E. S. Hartman, W. Washington St. The car was taken from a garage and was later found abandoned near Bridgeport, O.

JOHN CONLEY, E. PALESTINE, AUTO VICTIM

Roofing Contractor Dies As Result of Crash Near Boardman

LEETONIA BOY IS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Salem Area Is Blanketed With Snow; Traffic Is Impeded

An East Palestine man was among nine Ohioans killed in traffic accidents Friday night as a four and one-half inch snowfall descended in eastern Ohio, making driving conditions hazardous.

John H. Conley, 58, an East Palestine tinner and roofing contractor, died at 8 a. m. today in Youngstown South Side hospital of injuries suffered when his car skidded on Route 7, near Boardman, at 6:30 p. m. Friday and was struck by another machine, driven by E. D. Morley of North Lima.

Tommy Berg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Berg of Leetonia, who was accompanying Conley to a Grotto father and son banquet in Youngstown, escaped with minor injuries.

Church and Lodgeman Mr. Conley was active in Masonic circles and was an elder in the United Presbyterian church at East Palestine. In 1917 he was married to Katherine Morrison of Lisbon. The couple had since resided in East Palestine.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Eudora, a student in the Margaret Morrison girls' school at Pittsburgh; two brothers, Albert of Oakdale, Pa., Ira of Beaver Falls; one sister, Mrs. E. F. Brown of Butler, Pa., and his mother, Mrs. J. R. Conley, of Mars, Pa.

The body is at the VanDyke parlors in East Palestine pending completion of funeral arrangements. No serious accidents were reported in the Salem area, although a number of automobiles and trucks were tied up on hills early last night before state highway maintenance crews arrived. Approximately 50 machines were halted at various times on the winding hill just north of Shelton's grove.

A collision at N. Ellsworth ave. and Fourth at 11:10 p. m. sent Joseph Fellows of 140 E. Pershing st. to City hospital with lacerations of the face and right eye. His condition is said to be fair.

McNICOL DEFENSE SEEKS NEW TRIAL

Asks Conviction Be Set Aside; 8 Grounds of Error Charged

LISBON, March 8.—Defense counsel for Miss Anna McNicol, former East Liverpool city auditor's clerk, who was found guilty by a jury late Thursday evening of embezzlement through the unlawful diversion of $4,244.04 in municipal funds, Friday afternoon filed a motion for a new trial, setting up eight grounds of error, and asking that the verdict be set aside.

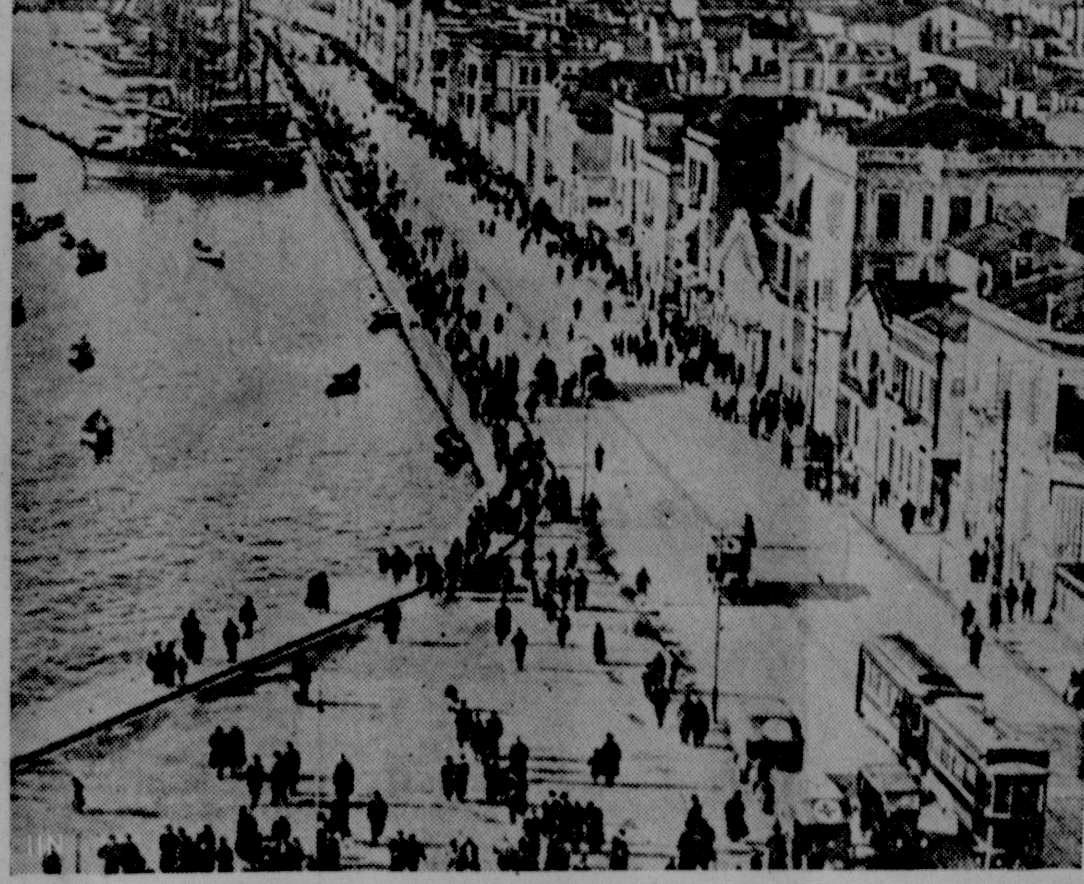

The action seeking a new trial was filed by Attorneys John Baucknecht and G. Jay Clark, and a hearing will be held here Wednesday, March 12, before Judge Lynn Griffith of Trumbull county. Prosecuting Attorney Frank W. Springer will oppose the granting of the motion.

The grounds set forth in the motion charge that: (1) The verdict of the jury upon the third count of the indictment, is contrary to the evidence; (2) is not sustained by sufficient evidence; (3) and is contrary to law; (4) that the court erred in the charge to the jury regarding third count of the indictment; (5) and that the court erred in refusing to direct a verdict on the third count; (6) that there were other errors of law occurring at the trial; (7) the misconduct of the prosecuting attorney in arguments to the jury; and (8) that the verdict as submitted to the jury upon the third count of said indictment was misleading, contradictory to the offense charged in the indictment, and tended to confuse the jury.

BRICKER FIGURES TO GET ARGUMENT

Democratic Minority Feels Alarm Over Political Effect In 1942

(By Associated Press) COLUMBUS, March 8.—Gov. John W. Bricker's conservative estimates of state revenue for 1941-42 may provoke the most extensive argument in the 94th general assembly.

His predictions are somewhat gloomy, in comparison with the current industrial boom and increase in employment, but he insists they are well-founded.

The Democratic minority in the legislature is alarmed over the possible political effect in 1942, when it wants to elect a Democratic governor and become the majority.

Accuse Governor

They already are accusing the governor of deliberately minimizing the state's income. They feel that if the revenues greatly exceeded his estimates, there would be a surplus next year, the governor could reduce taxes and give himself a strong argument for reelection.

Bricker told the legislature that adoption of his program would provide a general revenue fund surplus of $46,451 at the end of 1942. The Democrats contend there will be a surplus this year and that the excess should be given to the cities and counties.

Let's examine the budget figures. Although the income of the general revenue fund last year increased $7,819,667 over 1939, Governor Bricker estimates it will go

DRAFT QUOTA FOR STATE IS REDUCED

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, March 8.—Ohio selective service officials estimated today that the state need supply only a little more than 11,000 additional men to the nation's armed forces to fill its first quota.

Military spokesmen in Washington said voluntary enlistments probably would reduce draft quotas for the next four months by about 25 per cent and Ohio officials calculated 13,120 would be cut from the original Buckeye total of 52,500.

With 28,262 Ohioans already called the state is only 11,118 short of its estimated new quota of 39,380.

Nationally, it was figured that about 600,000 trainees would be needed to bring the land forces to the 1,416,000 total contemplated by June 30, instead of the 800,000 originally anticipated. Already 201,000 have been inducted into service.

At the next meeting, March 21, the degree team from Greenford grange will confer the third and fourth degrees at Goshen grange, and members with birthdays in January, February and March will be honored.

The 1940 home economics committee presented a new Bible for the altar, Miss Laura Hopkins making the presentation as 1941 chairman.

The trustees reported further on investigations of cooking facilities, and were authorized to get estimates on the cost of building a kitchen for the hall.

The grange voted to pay the expenses of the lecturer, Ray Miller, to attend the lecturers' conference at Ohio State university, Columbus, March 24 to 28.

During the business meeting Lewis Greenawald of Smith grange, gave a report of the recent Ohio State grange sessions, at Cleveland.

Orders Explanation

COLUMBUS, March 8.—The Paulding county election board has been ordered by Secretary of State John E. Sweeney to present in his office Thursday circumstances surrounding an election dispute for county engineer.

Daniel E. Stouffer (D), originally was declared elected over Henry Green (R), but a recount gave Green 27 more votes. Stouffer then was declared elected as the result of his suit filed in common pleas court. Sweeney said he wanted to learn the facts on which the court based its decision.

JAPAN TIGHTENS BOND WITH AXIS

Matsuoka to Visit Berlin For "Deliberations On Co-operation"

(By Associated Press) A hint of tightening cooperation between Japan and her European Axis partners came today in an official German announcement that Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka would reach Berlin shortly for "personal deliberations on all questions arising from collaboration as set forth in the three-powers pact."

Dispatches from Tokyo said Maj.-Gen. Eugen Ott, German ambassador to Japan, has started home to Berlin alone. No date was given for Matsuoka's trip.

One suggestion for Matsuoka's visit to Berlin and also Rome was that the Axis might be contemplating formulation of a common program of action against Britain and the United States, both in Europe and the Far East.

May Not Want War

The possibility also was suggested that Japan is loath to participate actively in the war against Britain and wishes to explain her position to Adolf Hitler.

Three Nazi bombers were reported shot down today in dogfights off the English coast as the Luftwaffe resumed its attacks on Britain after a night of comparative quiet.

The German high command said a Nazi submarine and speedboats had sunk two British destroyers and 11 armed merchantmen totaling 61,400 tons in attacks on convoys.

The Italian high command reported a new British attack on the besieged garrison at the southeastern Libyan oasis of Giarabub has been repulsed.

In Madrid the press published a dispatch from Casablanca declaring groups of German officers believed to number more than 100 had arrived in French Morocco to observe the application of armistice terms. These officers, the dispatch said, will "control French Morocco's administrative life."

2-1 APPROVAL PREDICTION IN SENATE TODAY

Opponents of Legislation Co-operate To Obtain Final Ballot

TWO AMENDMENTS GIVEN APPROVAL

House Expected to Concur. Administration Leaders Assert.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Democratic Leader Barkley, declaring that senate opponents of the British aid bill were "cooperating to obtain a final vote today," predicted that the momentous legislation would be on President Roosevelt's desk by Monday night.

Saying he was "entirely satisfied" with the administration's consistent victories on the aid legislation yesterday, Barkley expressed to reporters the belief that the house would accept all senate amendments to the bill.

Could Finish Monday

Thus, if the measure should be approved by the senate today or tonight, the house could complete congressional action Monday.

Barkley said he had not decided whether to request the senate to limit debate by unanimous consent. "It may be," he declared, "that we can pass the bill without any limitation at all."

Administration leaders predicted the legislation would be approved by the senate by a vote of 2 to 1.

The powerful administration forces knocked down 12 proposed amendments yesterday and last night and leaders declared they were on "the straight road to passage."

Two Amendments O. K'd

Only two amendments were approved. One, presented by Senator Ellender (D-La.) as an administration compromise on the issue of sending troops abroad, provided that nothing in the aid bill should change existing law regarding movements of land and naval forces. The vote was 65 to 24. Critics called the provision "meaningless."

The other, put forward by Senator Clark (D-Mo.), an opponent of the legislation, was written in on a voice vote after Majority Leader Barkley had termed it acceptable to the administration. It substituted the words "transfer title to" for the word "transfer" in a section empowering the President to supply defense articles to other nations. Proponents of the bill said the change was more or less technical.

At least one major controversy remained to be settled. It was over an amendment by Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) which Walsh said would prohibit "giving away the navy."

Seattle Blacks Out In Defensive Test

SEATTLE, March 8.—All the lights of Seattle—well, nearly all of them—flicked out for 15 minutes last night in the first defense blackout test for a major American city, but that didn't blackout the festive spirit of most of the city's 400,000 residents.

The experiment went off on schedule, with almost complete cooperation of all the citizens and without reported accidents.

Thousands paraded downtown streets. Hundreds knotted before a hotel and yelled a warning to the one guest who had neglected to douse his room lights. Patrons deserted the shows for the quarter-hour to join the joyous hostlers, then returned to their seats.

There were no traffic mishaps. All automobiles within the city were stopped and those entering were halted at the city limits.

During the period from 10:40 to 10:55 only navigation lights in the

SAUCE FOR THE GANDER

Last November, members of the Dies committee were beginning to get alarmed about propaganda activities of German and Italian diplomatic and consular officials in the United States. Their apprehension was the prelude to the government's order issued Thursday restricting movements of all Italian diplomatic representatives, except those of the embassy staff. Inasmuch as the official ambassador and his staff are the personal representatives of Italy, they are considered by international law to be immune to laws in the countries to which they are assigned. They cannot be restricted, but they can be expelled if they succeed in making themselves unacceptable.

The act of restricting the movements of diplomatic representatives is serious but not surprising, like a drunkard's cirrhosis of the liver. The totalitarian states have restricted all diplomatic representatives as a matter of course for years. The United States merely is doing what should have been done as a routine matter of precaution long ago.

It is an axiom in diplomacy, which in its early stages was only slightly different from espionage, that the only crime in boring from within is to get caught. During the World war, the United States had the good luck to catch Ambassador Dumba of Austria-Hungary fomenting strikes in arms plants and asked his government to recall him. It expelled Captains Boy-Ed and von Papen, attaches of the German embassy staff, by the same method. Probably it missed a good many others who were up to no good.

There is no reason for Americans to wonder what the effect will be of the state department's alarm in the case of Italy's representatives. Rather, there has been reason to wonder why the state department didn't get alarmed long ago—at least as alarmed as the Italian foreign office seems to be about this country's representatives in Italy. The effect of giving the gander some of the sauce used on the goose can't help but be good. If, as Italy's spokesmen insist, the United States is a wicked plutocracy, it may as well quit acting like a decadent democracy, which is what they said it was before it decided to quit being a pushover.

GUTZON BORGLUM'S MOUNTAINSIDE

When a man has sufficient imagination to project himself into the future with colossal carvings on a mountainside, ordinary standards go haywire.

Gutzon Borglum's Mt. Rushmore memorial, one of the most colossal enterprises ever tackled, is designed to last thousands of years. That might seem to make it a memorial to the sculptor, himself, dead at the age of 69.

Quite the contrary, he soon will be forgotten. If the carvings last as long as Sculptor Borglum hoped they would, the men they represent probably will be forgotten, too. Who will find time to remember Theodore Roosevelt in another 2,000 years?

Visitors will look at the faces on Mt. Rushmore as they have looked at the Sphinx of Giza, not wondering what the Sphinx represented when it was carved or who carved it, but wondering why anybody would go to all that trouble. They will surmise it probably was a work relief project, like the pyramids.

Yet, because few men did go to all that trouble, the ages have been linked together after a fashion. Americans may owe more to Gutzon Borglum than they realize. Thanks to him they may be credited some day with truly remarkable skill and ambition in the art of carving on rocks sometime during the first three thousand years or so of the Christian era.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of extraordinary achievements and satisfactions, with all phases and desires of life rising to advanced levels of gratification. The financial, domestic and social, as well as psychological and aspirational aims and ambitions, are sure to come to happy fruition.

A child born on this day should be richly endowed with the talents, skills and aspirations of great achievement. This equipment may have deep spiritual or emotional sources expressed in genius, and sure to attain due acclaim.

For Monday, March 10

Monday's astrological forecast is for certain reactionary experiences, with a slowing down of high exuberations, by sober reflection calm attention to workaday affairs, like possessions, investments and financial "balancing the budget." There may be some pressure in this direction, with hints of litigation, a menace of an elder or superior.

Those whose birthday it is should be ready for rather trying though not disastrous situations to be negotiated, with determination, sound judgment, industry and fortitude. Perhaps financial anxiety with litigation in view, from threatening superiors or elders. Possessions may be imperiled.

A child born on this day should be steady, persistent, ambitious and fairly fortunate, although it may have to placate an elder or superior. Its private life should be satisfactory.

DELAYING DEMOCRACIES

WASHINGTON, March 7.—President Roosevelt declared today that every day's delay on the British aid bill would affect deliveries of war materials a little later on to what he termed the democracies.

Asked at a press conference whether the delay on the legislation, pending in the senate, was having serious effect, the President asserted at first that he had better not answer.

But he went on to add that reporters were aware that he had stated ever since the legislation was submitted to congress that perhaps a delay at this time, in February or early March, does not affect immediate aid to the democracies, but will affect deliveries a little later on.

Those high-speed army trucks they're building an equipping with machine guns ought to be about the deadliest war implement known to man, when you consider what a good job the autos have done in polishing off the human race using nothing except the bare bumpers.

I thank God and America for the right to live and raise my family under the flag of tolerance, democracy and freedom.—Walt Disney, animated cartoon producer.

The split between rights and duties is democracy's greatest weakness; if you please, its worst enemy.—Dr. Kimball Young, Queens college.

SUGGESTS DIET AS CURE FOR ACNE

Fat-Free Regimen Effective, Says Physician

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I suppose skin diseases worry people more than more serious complaints because they can see them. Certainly I don't believe that internal causes and blood poisoning cause as much grief as acne (pimples). Yet everybody knows that acne, in the course of time, goes away and doesn't cause much trouble anyway. But the amount of genuine tragedy that it raises in the hearts of the young who happen to have it, is hardly to be calculated.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

A new method of treatment for which considerable is claimed has just been announced by a dermatologist of my acquaintance. I can vouch for his honesty and sincerity of purpose and am glad to publish the method on that account, as well as for the general interest in the subject.

The acne pimples in the young have something to do with fat nutrition, either in the diet or the system, is indicated by the fact that all these cases occur in a greasy skin, that diet influences the development, that vaseline and other greasy substances when rubbed in the healthy skin produce acne pustules. Slender young women who take cream to gain weight often develop acne.

Avoid Vigorous Treatment

It is well to warn that vigorous local treatment of acne pimples makes them worse. When clumsily squeezed they become bigger, cystic sores. True if the comedone, or fatty core, can be extracted before the pimple occurs, this may prevent its appearance, but after the pimple occurs the less done to it, the better.

A low fat diet eliminating butter and cream entirely is followed by improvement. Other fatty foods and greasy foods—gravies and salad dressings—should also be prohibited. Carrot, squash, pumpkin, sweet potato, yellow corn and cornmeal are also avoided in the severe lumpy (rosacea) forms.

Milk and milk products are the commonest harmful ingredients of the diets of patients with acne; this has nothing to do with possible allergy.

Such a diet should be persisted in for at least five or six months before it is possible to see much improvement.

Besides this, a staple of treatment is the use of thyroid extract. This, of course, must be used under the care of a physician. There are many theoretical reasons to suppose that thyroid is useful in acne. Thyroid certainly has some relation to fat nutrition. Many physicians hesitate to give thyroid to acne patients because laboratory tests do not indicate any reason for such an administration. But this is no; a necessary condition to its use, and it should be given in full dosage, this being determined by the discretion of the physician.

The patient is told not to injure the skin of the face in any way as by rubbing. Any non-medicated soap will do for washing. It should be used gently with tepid water (not hot, which melts the oil in the pimples). Sore spots should be let alone. Don't use vaseline or other oil on the hair; if it gets on the face. No local treatment of the pimples is necessary, "not even the classical sulphur ointment."

Improvement can be observed, by this method, in a week, is well defined in a month, and is excellent within six months. If improvement does not occur, the doctor who got up this form of treatment thinks something was wrong with the way it was administered.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. R.: "Please tell me if the sunlight is as beneficial through the window glass as is the direct sunlight out of doors."

Answer: No. Window glass filters out the ultraviolet rays. The subject was fully discussed in the column in the past weeks.

R. B. B.: "I have often heard it said that white flour bread has no nourishment. Is this true? I am using soy bean and whole wheat. Is that better?"

Answer: White flour bread is one of the most nourishing foods on earth. Whole wheat and soy bean flour have more vitamin content but not more nourishment.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 48th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

CORNING, N. Y.—Mrs. Frank James' request has been granted. The 80-year-old woman was buried with a china doll she treasured since she was 5, when it was given to her after an accident that crippled one hand.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. . . . When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with Him in glory" (Colossians 3:1-4).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus said substantially, 'He that believeth in Me shall not see death. He who has the true idea of good loses all sense of evil, and by reason of this is being ushered into the undying realities of Spirit. Such a one abideth in Life—life obtained not of the body incapable of supporting life, but of Truth, unfolding its own immortal idea. Jesus gave the true idea of being, which results in infinite blessings to mortals (p. 324, 325)."

This society maintains a reading room at 136 South Broadway where the Bible and all authorized Christian Science literature may be read or borrowed. The room is open from 1:30 to 4 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and from 7 to 9 p. m. on Saturday. ## Rev. Bauman's Topic Is "Forgiveness On Earth" At Emmanuel Service

At the morning worship of the Emmanuel American Lutheran church, Rev. Bauman's sermon subject will be "Forgiveness On Earth." The text is written in Psalm 130, 11-4. Out of the depths have I cried unto Thee, O Lord. Lord hear my voice; let Thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications. . . . But there is forgiveness with Thee, that Thou mayest be feared."

German service at 11 a. m.

The Saviour Speaks

"Could ye not watch with me one hour?" Three disciples were chosen by Jesus to be with Him in Gethsemane. A mysterious struggle began. His soul was exceedingly sorrowful even unto death. He was in agony. He prayed. He prayed more earnestly. But He also yearned for human companionship and sympathy. Peter, James and John were to stand by. They were to watch with Him.

They failed Him. They slept while He agonized. Once and again He came and found them sleeping. But there was no outburst of anger, no indignant dismissal of these drowsy disciples, only a gentle rebuke in the form of a question: "What, could ye not watch with me one hour?"

Even in the throes of His struggle with sin and death Jesus was forbearing. He knew that these disciples, specially chosen and favored though they were, were only weak mortals. He made allowance for their frailties.

So He deals with us. Such love is irresistible. It puts iron into our wavering will. It nerves us to battle more strenuously against our sins. We must not fail this loving Lord. We must not let sleep get the best of us. On our guard we shall be lest weak flesh disgrace the willing Spirit.

Announcements follow:

Sunday school 9:45 (St. Luke 20:9-20). Charles W. Youtz, superintendent.

The rejection of Christ is the attitude that some people have, concerning Christ. They will have none of Him. They are not willing to be numbered among His followers. They have no sympathy toward His way of life. The present trend toward secularism and worldly might has done its part in turning many people away from the Christian way of life. It is in such a situation that Christians are to make their stand for Christ. They are not to be influenced by the spirit of indifference that is found in the world. Loyalty and devotion to The Savior must be of a high type and quality. Rejecting Christ is a very serious matter. Reject Christ here on earth and Christ will reject us before the judgment throne.

Morning worship 11.

The divinity of Christ did in no way make Him indifferent about fellowship with His disciples. The Scripture record is very clear that Jesus seemed to long for fellowship with His followers. He was pleased that people were happy to be in His presence. He was encouraged to face the severe tests of life, when He was surrounded with His friends. This friendly feeling of Christ was a source of strength to the hard-pressed disciples. They knew that Christ would not fail them. The struggles of Christians down through the long past have been made easier because the nearness of Christ has been a certain reality. Companionship with Christ is a source of hope and courage.

Hit-and-run drivers are known as a national menace. Hit-and-run SHOPPERS are almost as dangerous — but only to themselves.

Hit-and-run shoppers act on impulse, without plan or purpose. They rush through miles of aisles, pause, pass on, back-track and buy.

By PRUNELLA WOOD

Adler and Adler

If you golf, or even if you don't, you'll leap with cries of joy for this triumph in tailored sharkskin, designed to see you around the course in par, and guaranteed to emerge as crisp and fresh as when you started out from the first tee.

This is the kind of well-bred sports dress that American designers do best, and that seems most becoming to the greatest number of active American women.

This one is in pale gray sharkskin, a high style color for spring, and it has a number of new tricks up its smartly tailored free-action sleeves, which are so cut that you can wham a golf ball with your mightiest drive, with no worry about ripping out your shoulder seams.

The open neckline and the blouse fullness add to the casual comfort of the whole, while the tied belt is smart and new.

Four pockets—count 'em—will be a comfort to the girl who never can find a place for extra tees, handkerchiefs and such. Moreover each pocket is equipped with a workmanlike button and buttonhole, so that you won't lose your treasures.

If you don't go in for active sports, such a dress is just as correct on the spectator's gallery.

CORN PRODUCTION TO BE CONTROLLED

Farm Program Director Says Over-production Is Hazard

LIMA, March 8.—A collapse of corn prices would result from failure of farmers to approve marketing quotas and keep production within "reasonable bounds," an Agricultural Adjustment Administration official believes.

Harry N. Schoeller, north central regional director of the AAA, told a farmers' mass meeting last night a normal crop might cause one of the largest carryovers on record next fall, with the export market limited sharply.

"Failure to keep production within reasonable bounds and failure to approve marketing quotas would bring about a collapse in prices such as we have not witnessed since 1932," he said. "Sooner or later the flood of cheap corn on the market would demoralize the prices of hogs and cattle."

Schoeller predicted farmers would be blamed for food price increases. "But price manipulation, not food shortages, is the reason," he declared.

The meeting was the first of three Ohio sectional meetings called in anticipation of farm referenda on corn and wheat quotas for the year. Similar sessions are scheduled to night at Chillicothe.

The program of controlled production and marketing, approved by two-thirds of the eligible farmers in the commercial corn and wheat producing states, would impose production restrictions while guaranteeing the farmers minimum prices for their grain plus parity payments to bridge the gap between the price of farm produce and the cost of goods sold to farmers.

WOTAN'S WEDGE by FRANCIS GERARD A PRELUDE TO BLITZKRIEG

SYNOPSIS

The scene has changed from Junker-ruled East Prussia at the turn of the century to the London of the "apprehension period" following Munich.... from the glamour of a fatal "affair of honor" among the highborn to the gloom of a coroner's inquest, among the lowly, Matthew Beef, retired police sergeant, attends because the "victim," a supposed suicide, was his nephew, Bert Slatter. The verdict is "death by misadventure," but Bert's mother, Amelia, is sure that he would never kill himself. Sergt. Beef, her brother, informs his old boss, Sir John Meredith, of Scotland Yard fame, of his sister's suspicions.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

Though Amelia Slatter, with the resignation of her kind, accepted while disagreeing with the verdict of the coroner's jury and while her brother uneasily dismissed the matter from his mind, there was one person who was profoundly dissatisfied. This was Connie Smith, or, as she called herself at her place of business, Miss Constance Smythe.

Connie had been going with young Slatter for more than two years. She considered that her Herbert's memory had been clouded by the coroner's finding, and she was in that frame of mind where she was rebellious about the whole system of English jurisprudence.

Connie was a girl of considerable character. The daughter of a plumber at the wrong end of the Fulham Road, she had started with few advantages save her undoubted good looks. These had brought her to the show-rooms of a West End dressmaker as a mannequin. The comparative luxury of the surroundings in which she worked had taught her a lot. So had the customers. When, of an evening, she stepped out into Hanover, she seemed like the symbolic million dollars, synthetic Mayfair drawl, et al.

Before six o'clock that evening, the fog which had covered London had lifted to be replaced by a drizzling rain. As Connie left the bus at the first stop over Battersea Bridge, she pulled her fox collar closer about her throat and walked carefully to avoid splashing her stockings. As she rang the bell of Mrs. Slatter's little house, the tears welled up in her grey eyes, but she fought them back. With the courage of her generation, so often mistaken for hardness, she greeted Amelia with a little smile as the older woman opened the door.

"Thanks for telephoning me about the inquest," Connie said as she entered the dim parlor. It's all wrong, of course. Herbert wasn't that kind."

Mrs. Slatter began to weep afresh. "Now, now, Mother," Connie said quietly. "That won't do any good. Tell me all about it."

Mrs. Slatter stared at the girl who might have been her daughter-in-law and began. "Well, first of all the coroner gentleman...."

"Mother," said Connie gently, "why d'you say the coroner gentleman?"

"Well he is, isn't he?" asked Mrs. Slatter in astonishment.

"Oh, I expect so, but you know how down Herbert was on that sort of stuff. Poor boy, he was always saying that, when the New Day came, we would all be alike." Connie sighed and then frowned suddenly. "For all that, I didn't like that lot he was running round with. I'm all for equality, if such a thing would ever work out, but I didn't like that New Day Fellowship of his. They're Red."

"They were only 'Community-ists,' urged Mrs. Slatter. "And that don't mean anything in this country. Just a noisy lot, that's all."

The girl shook her head. "That's just it, Mother," she said. "They were not a noisy lot, at least not like some of the Reds whose meetings I've been to. They were.... Oh, I don't know, they were queer. I wouldn't have trusted them."

"You're not hintin' Con, as they were responsible for.... my poor 'Erbert...."

The girl stood up and paced restlessly about the room. For several minutes she made no reply to the other woman's suggestion. Then she halted in front of her and said, "Listen, Mother, I don't want to stir up any trouble now that poor Herbert has gone, but I'm not satisfied with the coroner's verdict. I know that Herb didn't kill himself and.... I'm going to find out how and why he died."

"But what can you do, Con?" cried Mrs. Slatter helplessly.

"Uncle Matt is a detective, isn't he?"

"No," said the literal-minded Amelia. Beef's no longer on the force."

"Well, he was, before he retired." "Yes," said Mrs. Slatter.

"Well, I'm going to Uncle Matt."

"But, Con dearie," cried her companion, "Beef was there, 'E 'eard all the evidence. 'E went and saw pore 'Erbert."

"You're not hintin', Con," said the late Herbert's mother, "that they were responsible." Her youthful caller had told her that Herbert belonged to a mysterious "fellowship" of "reds"....

"Yes, I shall go to Uncle Matt," nodded the girl as if the other woman had not spoken. "And not only Uncle Matt, but Sir John Meredith as well."

"Sir John!" exclaimed Mrs. Slatter aghast. "You can't trouble the likes of 'im."

"Why not?" replied Connie. "Uncle's always said he was the most human man he's ever known and, besides, Sir John was the best thing that's happened to Scotland Yard for years."

"But, Connie," protested the elder woman, "Sir John has retired the same as my brother Matt."

"Retired!" scoffed the girl. "Of course he's retired. That didn't make any difference to his solving the kidnapping of Lord Allingham's little boy. Anyway, Mother, my mind is made up. On Saturday I shall go down to Radcliffe to see Uncle Matt and, if possible, Sir John."

Meredith swung his car through the gate, up the drive, and to the garage at the rear. He entered the house through the kitchen, wet and cold, having been playing golf with his old pal, "Fuzzy" Fawcett.

"Where is her ladyship?" he asked Hobbs, who was going towards the drawing-room with a tray, alluringly arrayed with decanters and glasses.

"I think, Sir John, she is attending to Master Rupert's bath," replied Hobbs.

"Phyllis' night off, eh," commented Meredith and went up the stairs two at a time.

From the noise Meredith realized that young Rupert was having his bath in Juanita's bath-room as a special treat. As he pushed open the door he heard Juanita say to her small son, "No, darling, you mustn't eat the soap."

"Thoop! Thoop!" screeched

Nominations are Topped by Our Boots, Porter's Cap Whirlaway, Dispose

(By Associated Press)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 3.—Our Boots Porter's Cap, Whirlaway and Dispose top 112 thoroughbred nominees today for the May 3 Kentucky derby.
The field is without a 3-year-old, the E. R. Bradley runner which sent down winter book odds for last year's running, then finished second to break many hearts and some pocketbooks in the $75,000-added classic, richest race in America for three-year-olds.
Which leads to these words from 73-year-old Col. Matt Winn, boss of Churchill Downs, who has seen every derby:
"There is no outstanding candidate, but there are at least 30 from which the winner may come."

Just a short time ago it looked like Whirlaway, voted No. 1 juvenile for 1940 by sports writers in a close one with Our Boots, was being tabbed as the likely winter book favorite but the winds have changed. Today a Louisville bookmaker was putting him no better than 8 to 1 to win the derby.
That same bookmaker quoted odds of 4 to 1 on Our Boots and Dispose; 6 to 1 on Porter's Cap; 10 to 1 on Bold Irishman, King Cole and Attention; 15 to 1 on Curious Coin, New World and Good Turn, and the others as high as 1,000 to 1.

Whirlaway won his first start in Florida as a three-year-old, but his derby stock took a flop when he lost a seven furlong allowance race to Agricole and Cadmus—both in today's list of nominees—running third. Later it was discovered he was hurt and then followed his being scratched in the rich Flamingo stakes at Hialeah, won by Dispose. He is on the mend now and is expected to resume training shortly.
The nominations, 15 less than last year, include 85 colts, 22 geldings and five fillies—the cream of the crop.

Soose Punches Way To Overlin Battle

NEW YORK, March 8.—Billy Soose, the boxer from Farrell, Pa., turned slugger for one blow last night and on that punch rode to his second straight victory over Ernie Vigh and into a shot at Ken Overlin's share of the middleweight crown.
A lightning right uppercut, square to the chin, sent Vigh reeling to the mat within 30 seconds after the 12 round fight started. The square-jawed Newburgh boxer got up at six and rallied to take the second and sixth rounds but not until the eleventh did he fully shake off the effects of that one punch.

Just a month ago Vigh had made such a gallant stand against the former Penn State athlete that Promoter Mike Jacobs called for a rematch before naming the one to get a shot at Overlin's New York-recognized title. But there was no argument after last night's entertainment.

Jacobs immediately announced he would match the pair for a 15-round fight sometime in May. Soose fought under a 30-day suspension for failure to make the agreed weight of 160 pounds, give or take a pound, but that's just time enough to give the Pennsylvania plenty of rest before going into training for Overlin.

held last year in Marion and most of the above Salem bowlers competed there.
Bob Tubbs, captain of the Eagles road team, has entered it in the A. B. C. tournament in St. Paul, which opens next week. The Eagles are scheduled to bowl sometime in April.

Open Golf Trials At Congress Lake

The northern Ohio qualifying round for the 1941 national open golf championship will be played at Congress Lake Country club, Hartsville, it was announced yesterday. The date is May 26 on which day sectional tests, are held throughout the country.

Congress Lake, one of the best known and most elaborately maintained courses in the midwest, played host to the Akron open championship last summer, when Herman Keiser, assistant pro at Portage club, was the winner with a tournament record score of 69-66—135. Par is 71.

The national open this year will be at the Colonial club, Fort Worth, Tex., its first appearance in the southwest. Because of the traveling distance, the Ohio field should not be as large as normally.

The northern Ohio qualifier usually is played in Cleveland, but occasionally has been taken down state. It was held once at Youngstown, and again at Barberton Brookside. Play will be the usual 36 holes, the number of qualifiers depending on the number of entries in the district.

Two of Ohio's leading players, Bill Burke of the Country club of Cleveland and Byron Nelson of Inverness club, Toledo, do not have to qualify this season, being former national open champions. Burke was the 1931 winner and Nelson won in 1939. The open was held at Cleveland Canterbury club last June, with Lawson Little victorious.

Announcement of Congress lake as the site of the qualifier was made by G. T. (Dick) Whitmore, Jr., secretary of the Cleveland District Golf Association, who handles the event for the U. S. G. A.

Yanks' New Infield Combo

Phil Rizzuto, Joe Gordon and Gerald Priddy

Here is the new infield combination of the New York Yankees, left to right, Phil Rizzuto, shortstop; Joe Gordon, first base, and Gerald Priddy, second. Rizzuto and Priddy made up the sensational Kansas City keystone combination of last year. Gordon, regular second baseman, is being tried at first. Rizzuto may be called to army duty, however. Red Rolfe, regular third baseman, is not in picture.

Giants' Outfield This Year?

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ.

NEW YORK, March 8.—(The Special News Service.)—Joe Louis vs. Abe Simon at $5 tops will be the cheapest heavyweight championship bout on record. . . . Everybody was glad to hear Ernie Lombardi signed up, but what we want to know is, who won the salary war?
Ed Eales' scoop in the Chattanooga News-Press that good old Jim Braddock will try another comeback, is confirmed by Jim's manager, Joe Gould, who should know a whole lot better.
Jim will warm up with a southern exhibition tour with Red Burman. (We wondered what had become of Red.)
Edwin Elliott, Carnet, the stocky southpaw, who was blown to the Bees by the draft, owns a coal mine in Oklahoma.

Go Easy, Boys

The Chicago U. student paper which is demanding a probe of unethical athletic activities in the Big Ten, shouldn't insist too much. The investigators might find good old Chicago is guilty of unathletic activities.

Nobody Cared

Washington newspaper shops report a quiet night with nobody calling to ask who won the Conn-Hassett fight. (Did you say fight, Butch?) . . . Chasing one fly ball gave Harry (The Horse) Danning two corking buns in his outfield debut. A rush call was sent to Tropical park for a veterinarian.

Anything can happen. Here's Joe Louis, who has done as much as anybody to take the walk out of boxing training for Abe Simon in a Detroit hall called "Dance Paradise." . . . The Dodgers are seeing themselves as others see them by viewing pictures of games at Ebbets Field during the closing weeks of last season. . . . First time he saw his name in lights over the Garden. Lou Ambers rode around the joint four times in a cab to view the spectacle.

Today's Guest Star

Tim Cobane, N. Y. World-Telegram "Manager Peckinpaugh says it's all right for the Indians to take a high ball after the game. . . . It's also wise procedure when the count's three and two.

"But if the Chisox should get frisky
On a little beer or whisky,
Those poor tykes of Jimmy
Dykes
Will get the works from Mrs.
Comiskey."

People You Know

Elmer Layden, who did all right on "Information, Please" last night, will guest star on Bill Stern's "Sports Newsreel of the Air" tomorrow night. . . . The Statespost is coming up with a story on Golfer Clayton Heafner, authored by our old running mate, Jake Wade of the Charlotte Observer. . . . His thousands of readers and friends don't want to forget that Uncle Cy Sherman of the Lincoln (Neb.) Star will celebrate his 70th birthday and his 54th anniversary in the newspaper game next Monday. Let's fire a lot of wires at him.
Benny Leonard's newest eatery has opened and Coach Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech has become a grandpapa.

Heads Up Basketball

In a City league basketball game at Dulles the other night, one team started the game with four guys and the ball wasn't discovered for three minutes. . . . Later the same team was penalized for having six players on the floor. . . . Nice going, boys!

Showman Joe

The Chattanooga Lookouts are going to train on an island off Daytona beach and one Southern association was saying Owner Joe Engel probably will insist on the boys swimming to and from practice.

Aviators' Edge In Height, Good Foul Shooting Prove Deciding Factors In Tilt

Winners Control Rebounds, Make Nine Out of 11 Free Throws; Salem Lads Play Good Ball, Almost Catch Foes With Late Rally

Coach Herbert Brown's Quakers put up a game fight last night at the Youngstown South High gymnasium but Alliance's superior height and exceptionally good foul shooting were enough to edge the Brownmen, 35 to 32, in their sectional tournament game. This defeat eliminates Salem from the tourney.

The majority of the Alliance players top the six-foot mark, which gave them a big advantage in gaining the ball off the backboards. As a result, they would get three or four shots on every offensive drive to Salem's one or two. The Aviators had a good night at the foul line, connecting on nine out of 11 attempts. The Quakers swished 10 out of 19.

The game went along at a fairly fast pace all the way with Alliance holding a steady lead, usually around five points. The Quakers made a serious bid to win in the final quarter after trailing, 32-24, at the three-quarter mark.

"Tut" Guappone opened the Salem rally with a one-handed shot, and Bob Scullion followed up with a rebound play that cut Alliance's lead to 32-28 with five minutes left to play.

Hit Bad Luck

Guappone and McGaffick counted on free throws to trail 32-30. But just as the prospects of a victory looked bright, Lady Luck decided to frown on the locals. With three minutes left to play, everything seemed to go wrong. The Salem shots skipped off the rim of the hoop and their attack was stalled by little "incidents" all over the court, such as traveling and stepping on the edge of the boundary line. All of those little things quickly ate up the remaining time.

In these dwindling minutes, Faulkner, Aviator center, swished a free throw and Jenkins, Negro forward, added another. Phil Cozad finished the scoring with a pivot shot.
The Salem boys have nothing to be ashamed of in their defeat. They went down fighting all the way. As an example, in the last two minutes "Tut" Guappone grabbed a rebound off the backboard and started up the gigantic South High floor, but he lost possession of the ball when his legs buckled under him from sheer exhaustion.

McGaffick Nets 13 Points

Ray McGaffick climaxed a season of stellar play as he chalked up five field goals and three free throws for 13 points to lead Salem. The diminutive forward made all of his two-pointers on long heaves. Bob Scullion was next highest with six markers, all rebound shots.

Phil Cozad, Johnny Volio and Guappone rounded out the starting lineup. All of these boys played a creditable brand of ball.
Four seniors, Bob Jaeger, George Ballie, Bob Umberger and Mike Thomas, wore the Quaker colors for

WOMAN OUTLIVES MAN, SAYS DOCTOR

DETROIT — Do men live longer than women?
 Dr. Arthur B. Elliott, of Chicago, says no. Scolding the age-old theory about the "survival of the fittest," Dr. Elliott told members of the Michigan State Medical Society at a convention here that women are less emotionally intense than men and, consequently, have a better chance of survival.
 "Women live longer and a higher percentage die of causes not connected with their blood pressure," said Dr. Elliott.

The supporting cast lists Lee Bowman, Alan Curtis, Nat Penfeton, Jane Frazee, Samuel S. Hinds and the Andrews sisters.

economy and politics in all matters directly or indirectly related to the war and armistice.

Germany's Price
Balkan observers intimated today Germany's price for staying a threatened attack on Greece would cost the Greeks every hard-won mile of their gains against Italy and return their troops within their old frontiers.

German diplomats were said by some sources to have promised Greece she could retain all the territory she held before Oct. 28 when the Italians first attacked if she would sign a peace giving Premier Mussolini a "paper victory" in Albania.

But despite 150,000 Nazi soldiers poised for action on the Greek-Bulgarian border, the Greeks battled grimly on in central Albania without a word of additional comment from Athens, where German diplomatic pressure so far apparently has fallen flat.

Greek diplomatic sources at Sofia declared yesterday their country would "fight any German invasion."

Foreign sources in Athens said without confirmation that Gen. Ugo Cavallera had been superseded as Italian commander by Gen. Carlo Geloso in another shake-up of the Italian command.

New Diplomatic Pressure
Dispatches from Sofia, sent through a new Bulgarian censorship put into effect after Nazi troops took over, told of increasingly heavy diplomatic pressure, too, on Turkey and Yugoslavia.

Axis informants said Yugoslavia—prospective next signer of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact—was relatively a side issue, but intimated that offers of machinery, locomotives and other economic inducements were being held out in an effort to persuade Turkey to relinquish her ties with Britain.

Despite the belligerent anti-Nazi tone of Turkey's press and her defense precautions, there still was no indication she would back up Greece's vow of fighting should the Germans strike toward the Aegean.

German sources professed to believe neither Turkey nor Greece would challenge German arms.

and distributed from there by the German radio and DNB, German official news agency.

Declaring that "despite the American efforts felt here, with all certainty the consolidation of the 'new order' will continue in Europe," Dienst Aus Deutschland said the alleged "Roosevelt demarche" to Yugoslavia "is directly opposed to the principles of the Monroe doctrine as well as Roosevelt's promise to the voters to keep America away from war."

Asks Clarification

(By Associated Press)
ROME, March 8.—Virginia Gayda, a Fascist editorial spokesman, indicated today that Yugoslavia would be asked to "clarify her position and intentions" toward the Axis powers as a result of an Axis-reported attempt by President Roosevelt to keep the Balkan country out of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo camp.

Gayda, writing in Il Giornale D'Italia, said "the Anglo-Saxon action tends to compromise her (Yugoslavia) in every form and create ambiguities every day on her relations with the Axis powers."

"The Belgrade government will not lack the occasion to fix its attitude beyond any possible present and future uncertainty," he added significantly.

A story from Budapest via Berlin reporting a purported offer of American aid to Yugoslavia was printed by Italian newspapers.

Three-quarters of an hour later a truck operated by Robert J. Anderson, 33, of Canton, skidded at the same spot and jack-knifed into a ditch. The driver was not injured.

Schoolboys Killed

In Youngstown late yesterday afternoon two schoolboys, Edmund Wallace Storey, 13, and Albert Topper, 12, were fatally injured when a stolen automobile went out of control on a fall in Youngstown and struck them as they walked home from school. Joseph Sikora, 13, one of three youthful occupants of the car, died early today of injuries.

The other two boys in the machine were injured, one critically. While horror-stricken schoolmates watched, young Storey's body was thrown 20 feet, struck the front door of the J. H. Blair residence and crashed through the door's wood and glass panels.

The Topper boy, struck so hard that he was lifted out of galoshes, was thrown 30 feet through the air, his body striking a tree. Both boys apparently died instantly.

In St. Elizabeth's hospital are John Kirk, 14, with a broken leg, and John L. McGinnis, 15, with a possible fractured skull.

McGinnis is reported in a critical condition.

Witnesses said that the automobile was rounding a curve on McGuffey road, near the city's northeastern limits, at high speed when Sikora lost control after the car's wheels hit a depression.

Stops Against Tree
After striking the homebound schoolboys, the car careened to a stop against a tree.

While police were directing ambulances to the scene, Joseph Jumbur of suburban Campbell walked in to report his car stolen. Jumbur told police he had left the automobile unattended, with the key in the ignition, while he visited a doctor.

Police later ascertained that it was his car in which the trio was riding.

Death of the three boys brought Youngstown's 1941 toll to 12. Last year at this time only three had been killed in the city.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—State food officials are confident the rapidly growing army will not suffer a bean shortage. Stocks of dry beans in California warehouses are the largest on record—a total of 3,552,042 bags.
